jono grant

Jono Grant, Composer, Producer and Multi-instrumentalist has built a diverse portfolio of audio work over the last 20 years, spanning many genres and every form of media. He has scored more than 300 episodes for numerous series including "Undergrads" (Teletoon/MTV), "Radio Free Roscoe" (Family Channel), and "Captain Flamingo" (YTV), which earned a 2006 Gemini nomination for best original score in an animated series. Most recently, Jono has scored "An Officer and a Murderer" The Russell Williams story for Lifetime.

Jono works mainly out of his personal studio, Victory Drive Recording, located in Toronto's Leslieville. Victory Drive is a destination for performing artists as well as film and television producers, featuring state-of-the-art equipment and an abundant collection of eclectic and vintage instruments. From old-school tape-and-razor blade editing to the latest techniques in modern sound design, Jono is skilled in all forms of music production.

Jono studied composition, harmony and music theory privately with teacher/music analyst Michael Leibson and is well versed in writing and arranging for all types of music and ensembles.
